WHO IS FULLER GILBERT?

Fuller Gilbert & Company started life in Wimbledon 25 years ago acting as a trusted local estate agent serving the West Wimbledon, Raynes Park and Coombe areas of south west London and parts of north Surrey.

In 2021, with one of the owners planning retirement, the business was acquired by a private family with a passion for property and a core belief in accountability and trust. Shortly after the acquisition the company purchased a large freehold building in Wimbledon Village, before announcing the addition of a private office service.

In 2023 an opportunity presented itself to grow the business with the purchase of independent boutique agency Dominic & Co, that had been based in South Kensington for over 30 years, concentrating on prime London residential sales and lettings.

Following the acquisition, the office at 38 Gloucester Road was renovated and also extended, with the purchase of number 40, providing over 3000 sq ft of working space and meeting facilities. The company has since added a private office service to the Kensington branch and will expand further in 2025 when we officially launch our commercial property division.

With the founders of both the original companies still working at the business, along with a team of highly experienced industry professionals, Fuller Gilbert offers a wealth of knowledge and look forward to being of assistance, should you require an agent to support you in your property endeavours.

NOT SEEN WHAT YOU'RE LOOKING FOR ON THE OPEN MARKET?

Property finding service...

Fuller Gilbert offers a property finding service where we will act on your behalf to find you the perfect home or investment - taking the time, energy and stress out of your search. This includes properties both on the open market and those not yet available to the general public.

Having ascertained a brief of your requirements we will conduct a full market search and, once we have found the right property, negotiate to ensure you purchase at the best possible price.

Off Market

Some of our clients wish to conduct their property affairs in a private manner, without any online presence. We have a proven track record of organising transactions in this way, enabling both buyers and sellers to conduct their business discretely through our private office and network of external sources. This has proven especially popular amongst high-net-worth individuals, corporations, celebrities from the world of entertainment/sport and people in the public eye.

More than just an independent estate agent...

Whilst selling and letting properties is our core business, Fuller Gilbert and its associates also offer a host of other related services, including:

- Private Office
- Portfolio building & management
- Mortgage broking

DON'T TAKE OUR WORD FOR IT

A few of the things said about us in 2024...

Friendly & helpful team... ★★★★★

I worked with Alexandra who managed everything perfectly. I strongly recommend them to anyone.

Shilan S

Managed a great sale price in two weeks... ★★★★★

We worked with Matthew and Dominic for the sale element of the house, which had been on the market for a year. Fuller Gilbert managed a great sale price in two weeks. Post contracts Kav took over to manage conveyancing & purchasers and was very good at making sure all elements were progressing well. A very good team effort and price achieved. We were extremely happy.
